MURDERED.

Tom Hunt Killed By Will "Lasses" alias Turner.

"Deep Bottom" Again Stained With Human Blood.

On Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, while a lot of crap-shooters, among whom were Will Redd, Oliver Fletcher, George Bowen, Harvey Owens, George Hunt, Will Turner, John Turner and Tom Hunt, all negroes, were engaged in their favorite pastime in "Deep Bottom, Virginia," the most notorious negro settlement in the town. A dispute arose over the ownership of ten cents, and Will "Lasses," alias Will Turner, alias Will Connor, stabbed to death Tom Hunt.

From what we can gather the parties were engaged in the game, when "Lasses" claimed Tom Hunt owed him ten cents. Hunt, who had on a sunbonnet, replied as he got up and moved off with the evident intention of getting away without settling. "Wait till I take off this bonnet." In the meantime all seemed about ready to engage in a scrap. "Lasses" caught Tom Hunt and, half turning him around, drove a four-inch barbed blade into his left breast, severing theorta, death resulting in a few minutes. Another cut made a deep gash in the murdered negro's arm.

The entire party are about as hard a lot as can be scared up, nearly all being familiar with the inside of the jail.

"LASSES" STATEMENT.

The statement made by the murderer does not greatly differ from that given above. He says:

"We were playing craps. When I lost my hand and Tom Hunt agreed to pay me ten cents for it, he had thrown twice, when I asked him for the money. He said he would not pay me or any other d—nigger ten cents, and run his hand in his pocket. I pulled my knife and cut him. Some of the others started to attack me, when my brother, John, drew his pistol and stood them off."

The negro who did the killing is from Owensville, and has been in jail there as well as at this place for crap-shooting and carrying. The negro killed was about as tough a specimen as the party who did the killing. Judge Lewis Apperson held an inquest on Sunday, and Harvey Owens was sent to jail on the charge of perjury before the coroner.

The murderer's brother, John Turner, and Harvey Owens were also arrested and lodged in jail. They were brought before Judge Apperson Monday morning, and Will Turner waived an examining trial and was remanded to jail. John Turner was held on a bond of $100 to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court, charged with complicity, and Harvey Owens was held on a bond of $100 charged with crap-shooting.

Mr. William N. Anderson brought in a live grasshopper, which he caught on his farm, near Howard's Mill, Tuesday, January 2. We think we can safely say this is the earliest one of the year.

Lost on the street yesterday a pair of gold rimmed spectacles. The finder will be rewarded upon returning them to Mrs. James Grigby.

SALE OF THOROUGHBREDS.

Milton Young Sells $40,000 Worth of Horses to J. E. Kittson.

Last night one of the largest private deals in horseflesh of the season was made, when J. E. Kittson, of Philadelphia, who has, in company with his charming wife, been in the city for several days, closed a contract with Milton Young, whereby Mr. Kittson became the owner of fourteen thoroughbred mares, the pick of McGrathians Stud Farm. The mares are with foal to Hanover, Strathmore, imp, Woodlands and other noted sires, and cost Mr. Kittson in the neighborhood of $40,000. The Transcript joins the legion of friends of the lucky proprietor of McGrathians in congratulations on this good sale and at the same time extend to Mr. Kittson our best wishes and congratulations for having secured "the pick of the stud" from one of Kentucky's most noted breeding establishments.—Lexington Transcript January 6.

Mr. Thurston was raised in this county, and left here but a few years since to build him a home and a fortune in the great North-west. He settled in Minneapolis, where, by his energy and integrity, he has built up an enviable business. Upon the meeting of the Council objection was raised to Walter Banks, the negro elected from the Third Ward, taking his seat. Mr. Watson rose and introduced a resolution declaring the seat vacant on the ground that Banks was not a qualified voter. Major A. T. Wood presented Banks' side of the case and Judge H. Clay McKee, the City Attorney, presented to the Council his views, which were adverse to the claims of Banks. Upon a vote being had all voted to declare the seat vacant except Mr. J. D. Wilson. Then Messrs. W. T. Fitzpatrick and Matt S. Kelly were placed in nomination to fill the vacancy, and Mr. Kelly was elected by a vote of 4 to 3.

LEGISLATIVE CAUCUS.

Lindsay For Senator, Mrs. Day For Librarian.

At the Legislative Caucus held on Friday night, Senator William Lindsay was nominated for re-election as Senator from Kentucky. There were no other names before the caucus.

"After Senator Lindsay's nomination the caucus proceeded to ballot for a Librarian. Mrs. Day, of Frankfort, was placed in nomination by Judge Beckner; Mrs. Haycraft, of Frankfort, by Mr. Hammon, of Scott; Miss Guy, of Allen county, by Senator Moore; Miss Hardin, of Covington, by Mr. Sanders, of Washington; Miss Carriac, by Mr. Vance, of Henderson. The contest was spirited and exciting, and required six ballots to reach a result.

"Rules were adopted to drop the hindmost on the fifth ballot. The ballots were as follows: First—Mrs. Day, 34; Miss Hardin 19, Mrs. Haycraft 10; Miss Guy 19, Miss Carriac 18. No material change was made till on the fourth ballot, when Mrs. Haycraft withdrew and several votes went to Day. On the fifth ballot Miss Guy was dropped.

"Near the close of the sixth ballot it was apparent that Miss Hardin would be dropped, and members began to change their votes in an effort to stampede the caucus. Mrs. Day received 53 votes, Miss Carriac 46, and Miss Hardin 4. The Lexington members voted for Mrs. Day."

No Man's Land.

In the northern part of Limestone county, Alabama, is a tract of land consisting of more than 1,020 acres, which is not on the map of the State, nor can it be found in the Register's office of that country. No one claims it and no taxes have ever been paid on it. It is a wilderness inhabited by snakes, deer and razor-back hogs. It is a free hunting ground, and thousands of these hogs are killed every year, more for the sport than anything else.

These hogs can not be domesticated. Their yield is said to be enormous. Mr. Tom Booth, of Pulaski, Tenn., secured a male and female, and did all in his power to tame them, but failed. He kept them about a year, and at the end of that time they were as wild as at first. The more he fed them the poorer they got. Within the year they consumed 400 bushels of corn, and were then as thin as before. During that time the sow had five litters of pigs, numbering 210. Mr. Booth could not tame any of these, nor get them fat enough to make even soup gross. Finally he gave them to a colored man, who now considers himself under no obligations to Mr. Booth.

These wild hogs go through a garden like a shovel plow, and no vegetable escapes them. They can crawl through a crack that would hardly admit a mouse, and their sharp noses act as levers for lifting garden gates. More-over, their flesh which resembles that of a horse, is so tough as to be practically uneatable.—Ex.

A LIST OF DAYS FOR PATRIOTIC REMEMBRANCE.

(Youth's Companion)

It is an inspiring study to observe the birthdays of the principal Creators of Liberty, of the Founders, of Republics and great educational systems and institutions of character, and the in-crease of interest in the examples of the noblest and best lives is one of the healthful signs of the times. "Peo-ple are known by the men that they crown," said an old Greek philosopher. The principle is as true now as when written.

We give here an incomplete list of birthdays and events which merit study in the course of human progress and which might well receive at least a brief notice in the schools. These dates may be increased in number.

JANUARY 1.

The Emancipation Proclamation of President Lincoln 1863.
"Our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the propo-sition that all men are created equal"—Lincoln.

JANUARY 8.

Battle of New Orleans, 1815. This battle the culminating event of the War of 1812 against Great Britain, and the crowning achievement of General Jackson, who won the victory for the Americans.

JANUARY 11.

The birthday of Alexander Hamil-ton. Hamilton was born in the is-land of Nevis, West Indies, in 1757. He was one of the strongest defenders of the American Colonies, both with voice and sword, during the Revolu-tionary War, and was a member of the Convention which met in Philadel-phia in 1787 to form a Constitution for the United States. Of this Consti-tution Hamilton has always been the most able and inspiring exponent.

JANUARY 12.

The birthday of Pestalozzi, the originator of the method of object-teaching. Pestalozzi was born at Zurich, Switzerland, in 1746. He held that education was for the pur-pose of forming character, as well as for the acquisition of knowledge. Froebel, the founder of the kindergar-ten system, was his friend, and Horace Mann, a promoter of the American school system, was a disciple.

JANUARY 18.

Birth of Daniel Webster, the great-est of American orators, and one of the greatest of American statesmen. His speeches in the Senate are the monument of his greatness. These speeches will ring through American literature and American political life as long as the republic stands.

FEBRUARY 5.

The arrival of Roger Williams in America. Roger Williams was the teacher of Liberty of Conscience, a principle which has found a place in the constitutions of most civilized na-tions and of all republics. He came to Boston in 1631.

FEBRUARY 12.

Birth of Abraham Lincoln, the martyr President and liberator of American slaves.

FEBRUARY 22.

The birthday of Washington. "The entire progress of the civilized world for more than century has been shaped by the influence of his life and pre-cepts."

FEBRUARY 27.

Birth of Henry W. Longfellow, the poet of Hope, Home and History.

On this day, in 1871, Emperor Alex-ander II. of Russia issued a procla-mation declaring that the serfs or ter-ritorial slaves of that country, who numbered about twenty-three mil-lions, should be free in two years from that date. "This reform will ever give the name of Alexander II. a place in the list of those rulers who have conferred singular benefits upon their subjects."

APRIL 2.

Discovery of Florida by Juan Ponce de Leon, April 2 (23d March, O. S.) 1513.

Ponce de Leon discovered Florida while in search of the "Fountain of Youth." Because of its wealth of flowers, or because of the holy day when he first saw the land (Pascua de Flores), he gave the name of Florida to the great island, as he supposed, which he had discovered.

APRIL 19.

The battles of Lexington and Con-cord, 1775—the day on which the "embattled farmers" fired the shot heard round the world."

APRIL 30.

Louisiana was purchased from the French, 1802, adding to the United States territory out of which many states of the Southwest and North-west have since been carved. A memorable day in the history of the country.

MAY 5.

Discovery of the Mississippi River by Ferdinand de Soto, 1541. "For sixteen months De Soto and his band of six hundred chosen men, clad in complete armor, wandered over the territory now comprised in Alabama and Georgia, misled by their captive guides, worn out by hardships and disappointed in their hopes. On the fifth of May, 1541, they stood on the banks of the Mississippi, seen for the first time by Europeans."

MAY 30.

Memorial day.

JUNE 14.

Adoption by Congress of the "Stars and Stripes" as the American flag, 1777.

"The symbol of the power and glory and the honor of fifty millions of Americans."—George F. Hoar.

JUNE 17.

The Battle of Bunker Hill. On this day the American insurgents made their first effective stand against the British over-er.

JUNE 23.

The gift of corn, 1621.

In the summer of 1621 Mr. Edward Winslow, Mr. Stephen Hopkins, and an Indian guide named Squanto, crossed the Taunton River named the Kickenunt, and came to the village of Sowams in Pokanoket, or to some place near that village. They were the first white men who ever came to the town, and their errand was to beg corn of Massasoit for food and planting. The chief received them like a father and gave them the corn which has become the strong food of the nation. Indian corn should be put on every plate on Thanksgiving day, in memory of the scant ration that once kept our forefathers alive.

JULY 4.

Anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, 1776.

A nation was born in a day. An era dawned which was the most remark-able of any that had occurred in the world's history.

"I ask, you nothing else than that you preserve intact the sacred deposit of liberty. I renounce the authority you have conferred upon me; elect a new magistrate and forget me."

SEPTEMBER 6.

Birth of Lafayette, 1757.
The great principle of our Revolu-tionary fathers and of our pilgrim-sires was the rule of his life—the love of liberty protected by law.

OCTOBER 12.

The discovery of Columbus was made in the ripeness of time, and he said of it, "God made me the mes-senger of the new heavens and of the new earth, and told me where to find them."

OCTOBER 19.

The surrender of Lord Cornwallis, at Yorktown, 1781.

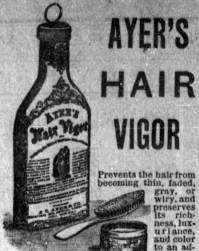

NOVEMBER 21.

The Compact of the Mayflower signed on the lid of Elder Brewster's chest on November 11 (O. S.), 1620. This compact was the beginning of American Constitutional Liberty.

The foremost men of the world write the literature of contemporaneous activity for THE FORUM.
Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it naturally comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.
To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory. Indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature—men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties—is great enough in the United States to warrant so revolutionary a reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporaneous activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

Color blindness has been found to occur in about four per cent. of Europeans and Americans, and among two tenths per cent. of females. The Finlanders and Norwegians run up as high as 5 per cent., while the Dutch go down to 1.43.

Great as have been their advances in recent years in other respects, the Japanese people have remained singularly deficient in statue and physique. A government commission, after prolonged investigation, attributes this to an almost exclusively vegetable diet.

Frost bells are told in some of the wine districts of France when there is likely to be a severe frost. The inhabitants at once hurry out of their houses and place quantities of tar between the rows of vines. Then a signal is given to light the tar, and in a few minutes a dense cloud of smoke arises which completely protects the vines from the frost.

Corals increase by eggs, spontaneous division and germination. The rate of growth has not been fully determined. Prof. Agassiz indicates the growth of reefs at Key West at the rate of six inches in one hundred years and adds that it would require seven thousand years to form the reefs in that place and hundreds of thousands of years for the growth of Florida.

Five years ago, it is said, all berths on sleepers were made up with the feet to the engine, unless it was ordered to the contrary. But now, on most lines, the practice is reversed. No reason has been given for this save one, that on an elevator no one objects to going up, though a descent is often disagreeable. There is the additional reason that whatever draught is created is more agreeable if it comes from behind the head than if it blows in the face.

A New Departure.
Beginning with the 1st of January, 1894, we will adopt a STRICTLY CASH SYSTEM. We take this departure from the old established manner of doing business that has been so long in vogue in Kentucky after due thought and deliberation knowing it is just only to our interest, but that it is to the interest of every one. We are driven to this course by the great stringency in money matters, and the difficulty of collecting our accounts when due, the abuse of the Credit System being on the increase continually. To those who have so kindly patronized us in the past, we extend our sincere thanks and trust they will realize the importance of this "New Departure" by continuing to give us their patronage.

ADVOCATE PUBLISHING COMPANY.

TUESDAY, JAN. 9, 1894.

We are authorized to announce Mr. A. J. Ware as a candidate for Mayor of Montgomery county. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

From time to time we have had occasion to express our disapprobation of the Columbia Finance and Trust Co. as the proper custodian of the interests of the people of this section, in the matter of the New Farmers' Bank. We had occasion to say something along this line a week ago. And in answer to our article, the Montgomery County Times devoted a column and a half to a mild attack upon the Advocate and a tame defense of the Trust Company. We have no desire to injure the Trust Company, even if it lay in our power to do so. But we do have a very strong desire to reflect the interests and wishes of the people among whom we live and with whose fortunes we are closely identified. We believe the Trust Company cares not one whit for any body's interest except its own, save where those interests happen to lie in the same plane. We have not hesitated to say as much before and we repeat it. While we are on this subject, it may not be out of place to recall a few facts in connection with the transactions of this Trust Company in the fulfillment of its trust. It will be remembered when this Company first took charge of the bank's affairs, that the Advocate expressed, in unmistakable terms, its disapproval of the trustee. The active spirit of this Trust Company (Mr. Attilla Cox) and his attorney, each had been extensively interviewed by more than one paper in Mt. Sterling, in order that he might express to the people of Montgomery county, what a liberal policy it was proposed to pursue in the settling of the affairs of the bank. It will be remembered that the officials of this Trust Company urged that they had plenty of money to loan at low rates of interest on real estate, and that they would gladly add those indebted to the New Farmers' Bank, who were in position to give real security. If this Company has fulfilled its promise in one single case, we have failed to a certain fact after diligent search. We did hear that in one case they had fulfilled their promise, but upon inquiry, found even the supposed single case was a mistake. More, than this, there has not been a day in which the estimated worth of the assets of the bank have not gone down since the Trust Company took charge. People have steadily lost faith in them until now every vestige of the little confidence, they may have enjoyed, is gone.

Gov. Brown's message has been well received by the people of the State. The tone of the document is such as to commend it to right thinking people. One of his most needed and best received recommendations is that in regard to the official control of rates on railroads. He suggests that the Railroad Commissioners should be given the power to fix both a maximum freight and a maximum tariff. He thinks "taxes may be safely reduced several cents on the hundred dollars" is not probable there will be a large surplus in the Treasury at the end of the present fiscal year.

How to Be Prosperous

This is a question vital to every one. Work means something now. The earth will yield her increase as it has ever done before, and the thing to be done is to work and save. Every man must do all that he can; raise the best crops by giving the needed work and having employees to follow. The country is in debt and this is the way out of it. He who has capital must utilize it, and the laborer must not be idle.

Two hundred and forty eight suits have been brought for the Jan. term of the Circuit Court, which convenes the 15th; of these, seventy-nine were brought by the Columbia Finance and Trust Company. About twenty-five have been brought by the other three banks an average of about eight each.

One thousand cash customers; also five hundred that know the first of each month.

BARNES & TREMOR.

OLD VIRGINIA IS THE JEWEL.

In the Crown of the Sisterhood of States.

Which Composes the American Republic.

The various New England societies have given the usual number of annual dinners this season, at which the usual glorification of the Pilgrim Fathers was indulged in. To read the speeches delivered on one of these occasions one would think that there would have been no civilization at all on our hemisphere if the Pilgrim Fathers had not come over in the Speedwell and the Mayflower, fetching the embryo of everything admirable in our civilization with them. Even an ex-President, and the only surviving ex-President apologized the other night because he is of Virginia stock instead of New England. We are gravely informed that there would have been no religious or civil liberty in this country if the Bradfords, the Carvers, the Winthropes, the Mathers, the standishes and things had not ground out the article. The New England that burned witches, hanged Quakers, banished Baptists, enslaved Pequods, wrapped rum for smugglers on the coast of Guinea and swapped negroes for tobacco on the coast of Virginia is held up to us as the heaven of the whole American lump.

There are many things admirable in the New England character. It was a splendid race that produced a Samuel Adams, an Israel Putnam, a Daniel Webster, a John A. Andrew; it was a splendid race that made a garden of black coats in the Pilgrim Fathers first plant in our country; their narrow notional polity and their narrower religious creed; it was a splendid race that peopled Northern Ohio, Northern Indiana, Northern Illinois. But it was no better race than that which settled New York—those hardy Batavians with a more heroic history than any of the children of men, ancient or modern. The loyal Quakers who settled Pennsylvania, the devoted Catholics who settled Maryland, the fugitive Huguenots who settled South Carolina, all had as many virtues as the Puritans of New England, and, perhaps, less faults.

The very backbone of American manhood was acquired from the cavaliers who settled Virginia, and the Scotch-Irish who were scattered up and down the coast from New York to Savannah. There is more of glory, more of grandeur, more of the Grecian Democracy and republics, more of the Roman republic and Commonwealth, associated with old Virginia than all the rest of the Americans combined. In the formative period she furnished the tongue of Henry, the pen of Jefferson and the sword of Washington. Her Marshall evolved from his plastic mind our jurisprudence. Having formed the Federal Government, Virginia endowed it with our strongest strength from the Alleghenies to the Mississippi, to the West and the North-west. While New England was holding conventions at Hartford and hoisting friendly and warning signals for the guidance of British fleets, Virginia was the life and soul of the American cause in the second war for independence. While New England literature was burdened with treason in 1847, Virginia was advancing the American flag in the capitals of the Montezumas, and it was worth all the blood and tears, all the misery, all the waste of treasure, all the devastation of States, all the demoralization of society, all the anarchy of the Reconstruction period, that Virginia might develop and exhibit as an example for future ages the Christian, the gentleman, the Captain, the hero, the patriot, the man—Robert E. Lee.

There is a marked difference between the civilization of Virginia and that of New England. In the war of 1812 Massachusetts expended a considerable sum of the enlisted soldiers in the equipment of soldiers in our armies, and long ago Massachusetts was reborn with liberal interest; in that war Virginia expended for like purpose a fivefold greater sum, and she has never been repaid a cent, either principal or interest. But there is a more marked difference yet—Kentucky is the daughter of Virginia; Kansas is the daughter of Massachusetts. By their fruits ye shall know them. I have nothing against New England

I rather admire that remarkable race that raised universal and unshelved hell on both hemispheres.

New England has always been self-assured. It has fostered more fans than all the rest of the country. Some of its customs are excellent. The institution of Thanksgiving is beautiful, and that festival is only second to Christmas itself. It has become national, and is as popular at the South as at the North. Even Catholics—at least some of them—celebrate it. The establishment of New England societies in the various cities of the North and West was a capital idea, and one that should be copied by the South. I believe there is a Southern society in New York, and it is in a most flourishing state and a very important actor in the complicated economies of the metropolis. But there is no such institution here at the capital of the Union which the South aided so powerfully in forming, and which she is governing to a very considerable degree at this present juncture.—Savoyard, in Courier-Journal.

The New District Court.

Speaking of the Goodnight Bill to divide Kentucky into two Federal Court districts, Representative Lisle said to the Courier-Journal correspondent at Washington among other things, the following: "I believe there will be no serious opposition to the bill. I have already heard some little talk of probable applicants. In my district I know of but one certain candidate for any of the places, and that is C. Cyrus Turner, of Mt. Sterling, who would like to be Clerk of the Court. He is a young lawyer and would make an excellent Clerk."

"For the Judgeship I have heard mentioned the names of Judge John E. Cooper, of Mt. Sterling, the present Circuit Judge; Hon. Thomas G. Fitzpatrick and Walter S. Harkins, of Prestonsburg; B. M. Connolly, of Pikeville, and Judge C. O. Cardwell, of Jackson. But whether they are candidates I cannot say, as I have not heard from any of them."

"For the Marshalship the names of Breck Combs, Sheriff of Breathitt county; James T. Roberts, of Lee, and Geo. Drake, of Wolf, have been suggested. Either of them would make a splendid officer. For District Attorney Hugh Riddell, of Irvine, and Sam Salyers, of West Liberty, have been mentioned. Both are young men, and there are not two brighter lawyers in Kentucky."

"If the bill is passed we of the Tenth district will expect to draw down one of these good offices and a Deputy Clerk at Jackson. We of the mountains have never had much recognition, either for State or Federal offices, notwithstanding we have time and time over proved ourselves to be the truest Democrats in the State."

Every chronic are not made from the outside. Pure blood is an active liver, good appetite and good sleep—these are the things that make the difference between a healthy and a diseased system. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. First and foremost and above all things it purifies the blood. Not only in March, April, and May, when the weather is so good to do good, but all the year round, it cleanses, renews and invigorates the system, rouses every organ into healthy action, and drives out blood-poisons of every name and nature. For the worst cases of Scrophulous, the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Eczema, Bores, Tetter, Pityriasis, and all diseases or disorders caused by a torpid or impure blood, nothing can equal it as a remedy. If any thing could, it would be guaranteed. Just as the "Discovery" is. If it fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. Is any thing that isn't sold in this way likely to be "just as good"!

Amend the Game and Fish Interests of Kentucky.

Laws are made for our Government and ought to be observed. The evasion or breaking of a single statute by a single individual often disarranges the best laid plans, throws the machinery of government out of gear, and causes friction and serious trouble that would be avoided if the law had been complied with. Our laws are not oppressive, but are reasonable; they have been tried by experience and use: have been made known in convenient shape and attention directed to them on sundry occasions so that there is no excuse for ignorance; therefore, they must be obeyed.

The need of a law is shown by the ill wrought through ignorance or intention. The best laws are those conferring the largest amount of good upon the greatest number, and least oppression on the balance of the community.

The need of game and fish laws, for their protection and to encourage propagation is very evident, and the way to get down to a sound basis is not easy; but we will deal with the matter in a plain way as it seems to us. The cause is evident—too many "dogs" in the field—in Mt. Sterling there is 65 registered on Gun Club books, and not one will leave a single pair of birds to raise more if he can bag them. 300 negroes and dogs to continue the work all winter. So it is a surprise at results? It is surprising enough at all. We know of three farmers who are ardent sportsmen, and who are jealous watching each of them a covet of partridges to keep them from being annihilated. Now for business. Pass a law making it a fine of $25 for any one to trespass upon any man's land, and the farmer or owner clothed with police authority to make arrests. Make a closed season for three years on game birds.

Tax every seal, $50 and make it a penal offense to use it for anything larger than mow, six inches long, six a fine of $10 on any person using a trap or weir; $50 fine for damming any stream in the State, half of the fine going to informer, that convicts. Now, I hear you say this is unconstitutional, it curtails a man's liberty. Well, we have to curtail a man's liberty who, steals, who does many other bad things; why not? One other bad thing, gets all the fish in a man owns a seal, gets all the fish in a stream for three miles each way; from his operations, thereby, depriving twenty who love the angle or hook or hook and line.

One county in this State stands as a monument to protective law. Whitley county; and I know of no one who lives there that says he is oppressed, and any month in the year—weather and water favorable—a fine string of fish can be caught in a days outing. I know of five angling clubs that spend on an average of two weeks fishing on their streams. The club we are a member of leaves from $50 to $80 with the citizens, who, in turn, preserve the fish, by preventing illegal fishing. Our Government Fish Commissioners have planted many hundred thousand young fish in the Cumberland river fishing. If a law can be framed so as to protect game, these same fellows who would not leave a single bird if they could get them, will turn right about and buy birds and restock the depleted fields and thickets as they would then feel their efforts would amount to something. The farmers must be protected before any game can be raised. All after this is easy. X X X

Mr. A. J. War, who last week, announced himself through our columns as a candidate for the office of Jailor, is a gentleman well known in the county. He is a true Blue Democrat and as clever a man as anybody. The fact that he waited this late before he notified the voters with his candidacy, will be considered no bar to a favorable hearing of his claims by the people. Shall we tell the people of the county that Andy War is an honest man? Shall we call him a reliable Democrat? Shall we say he is thoroughly capable of filling most acceptably the office to which he aspires? They know all these things already. We are glad that we do not have to bespeak for him a hearing—the place he already occupies in the good opinion of the people of the county has won that for him.

Purely vegetable—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're a compound of refined and concentrated botanical extracts. These tiny, sugar-coated pellets—the smallest and the easiest to take—absolutely and permanently cure constipation, indigestion, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, bilious attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. They cure permanently, because they act naturally. They don't shock and weaken the system, like the huge old-fashioned pills. And they're more effective. One little pellet for a corrective or laxative—three for a cathartic.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

In Memoriam.

Sister Sallie Squires, daughter of Jefferson and Jennie Robinson, was born in Bourbon county, Ky., May 3, 1837, and departed this life November 24, 1893, aged fifty-six years—the first of a family of eleven children to enter "that rest that remains for the people of God." In her seventeenth year she confessed Christ at Old Somerset, Montgomery county, and for nearly forty years, lived a devoted, loving, earnest Christian. On September 1, 1874, she was married to Mr. James P. Squires, of Little Rock, Bourbon county, Ky., who, with their three sons, survives her. After her marriage she took membership with the Christian church at Little Rock, where she lived and died a zealous, working, faithful, Christian woman. She was universally beloved for her Christian culture, and her unselfish devotion in her wide sphere of usefulness. She was a woman of great faith, and could say with the Apostle Paul, "I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day." Love was the ruling passion of her soul. She loved her friends and neighbors, brothers and sisters, father and mother, husband and children and her church and Savior. It can be truthfully said that as neighbor, friend, daughter, wife, mother and Christian, "She had done what she could." In every relation of life she acted her part nobly. During her long and painful illness, her faith grew bright and she found comfort in the knowledge that "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth." Our deepest sympathies go out to the bereaved husband and children, and may they with the keen and piercing eye of faith, see the dear one near the beautiful gate "waiting and watching" for them.

"Weep not for her though tears arise, For she is happy in the skies. And there she stands with beaming hand And calls us to that happy land. Prepare us, Lord, by thy rich grace, To meet her in that happy place— And there upon the mount of God We'll tell thy wonders all abroad."

—L. H. REYNOLDS

Another of Mt. Sterling's aged women has been called home. Mrs. Louisa C. French, the venerable mother of Judge H. R. French, cashier of the Mt. Sterling National Bank, died on Sunday afternoon. For many years ill health has confined her to her room, and oftentimes to a couch of pain. She was a woman of great strength of character, and at the same time possessed a wealth of tenderness and loving loyalty, that gained for her the highest place in the esteem of those friends who were so fortunate as to know her for her true worth. Her influence was for good, for truth and the uplifting of all with whom she came in contact. Evil fled from her presence as the mist vanishes before a rising sun. She was one of God's noblewomen, who instinctively endeavored to impress her own high sense of right and duty upon all with whom she came in touch. Early left a widow, she bravely and without repining took up the burden, alone, of moulding the characters of the four sons God had given her. Two have preceded her into the great unknown, and two noble men of whom she was justly proud, are left to keep green the memory of as true a mother as ever assumed the direction of a boy's life. For many years she has made her home with her son, Judge H. R. French of this city, where she has received all the tender regard and attention her loyal devotion to him and his, merited. Her other son, Stephen French, of Denton, Texas, spent a week with her and only left a few days since, when she seemed to be somewhat improved, to be recalled to attend her burial. Mrs. French had been a great sufferer from a spinal affection, and of late, other complications had arisen. On Sunday afternoon, while somewhat weaker, she did not seem much more dangerously ill than usual, but even while her attendants watched beside her bed, the tired heart ceased to beat, and the gladdened soul sought the open door into the happy hereafter.

The funeral will take place at the Christian church this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Services by Elder H. D. Clark and W. T. Tibbs.

Great reduction in Queensware at Mitchell's, for cash.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Grassy Lick.

Rev. P. J. Ross and wife were the guests of the family of Mr. A. Orer last week.

Misses Cums and Fannie Mason visited friends and relatives in Bourbon last week.

Wm. Styles bought of John Peggs his crop of tobacco at 8¢; also of Chas. Donohue eight ears at 8¢.

Robert Souley, as agent, bought last week the following crops of tobacco: Of Mike and Dennis Gulliford 15,000 lbs., at 10¢; of Wm. Peed 20,000 lbs., at 10¢; with 75¢ off, and of S. S. Priest 10,000 lbs., at 11¢.

Mrs. J. D. Hazlerigg and Miss Returah Cluke visited the family of As. Mason last week. Miss Returah has such faith in the Electropolis treatment that she left one of the machines for her uncle, Mr. Mason, to test. He says it has been of great benefit to him.

Mrs. Mary Poynter died Friday evening, January 5, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Edmonson. She was born December 27, 1819, and was 74 years old. She had been confined to her bed about three weeks. She had been a staunch member of the Methodist church at Grassy Lick for over fifty years. She was buried on Sunday evening at her home near this place, funeral services conducted by Rev. A. Redd, assisted by Rev. D. P. Ware.

Mrs. Louisa Etletcher died at the home of her son-in-law, Charles G. Glover, on Saturday evening, of bright's disease, aged seventy years. For some time Mrs. Fletcher has been hopelessly ill and the end, when it came, was no surprise. But no matter that we are looking for his approach, death's coming is always rude and shocking. The expectancy relieves the dread messenger of none of his bitterness or unwelcomeness. Mrs. Fletcher was a noble, Christian woman, who, for long, long years, had lived as she died—in the hope of a happiness now realized. Thirty-five years ago she buried her husband, and notwithstanding the many days of gloom, there were times when her soul was lifted up and she communed with God. Her last hours were in the very midst of the severest pain, but, with it all, she saw the bright glory that awaited her. She had been a member of the Christian church for more than fifty years, and always had a reason for the hope she professed. She was a Christian and knew it—she loved God's house and his people. One son, John W. Fletcher, of Greensburg, Ind., and five daughters, Mrs. David Priest, and Mrs. S. G. Anger, Rushville, Ind.; Mrs. B. F. Priest, Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. C. G. Glover, this city, and one sister, Mrs. Avena, and five brothers, Judge H. Clay McKee, Moore and H. M. McKee, this county; J. H. Sam McKee, Louisville, and James McKee, Chicago, Ill., survive her. The funeral was preached at the Christian church Monday afternoon, by Elder W. T. Tibbs, assisted by Elder H. D. Clark and B. W. Trimble, and her body was laid to rest in Machpelah Cemetery. Three months prior to her death, she had visited each of her children and was brought home by Mrs. Anger. She had lived with Mr. C. G. Glover for nearly twenty years and had all the care that mother, loving hands could administer.

Popular Everywhere.

Beginning with a small local sale in a retail drug store, the business of Hood's Sarsaparilla has steadily increased until there is scarcely a village or hamlet in the United States where it is unknown.

To-day Hood's Sarsaparilla stands at the head of the medicine world, admired by thousands of would-be competitors. It has a larger sale than any other medicine before the American public, and probably greater than all other sarsaparillas and blood purifiers combined.

Such success proves merit.

If you are sick, is it not the medicine for you to try? Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

Could Not Open His Eyes. I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Chalmers street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good.
